Warnings:

Before providing a facial to a client undergoing active cancer treatment, it's crucial to issue warnings such as:

Sensitivity: Inform the clients about potential skin sensitivity and the risk of adverse reactions due to ongoing cancer treatments.

- Ingredients: Highlight the importance of disclosing all medications and treatment details to avoid the use of any products that may interact negatively with their current regimen.

Patch Test: Suggest a patch test to check for any allergic reactions or heightened skin sensitivity, as cancer treatments can affect the skin's response.

- Gentle Techniques: Emphasize the use of gentle techniques during the facial to avoid irritation or discomfort, considering the potential fragility of the skin.

- Communication: Encourage open communication during the session, so the client can express any discomfort or changes in sensation promptly.

Always consult with the client's healthcare provider before proceeding and tailor the facial treatment to their specific needs and medical condition.
